HE BET ON THE SEVEN

A GAMBLER'S SCHEME THAT WORKED WELL FOR AWHILE.

He Forgot One Very Important Thing, However, and His Last Flaming Wager Brought Ruin and Tragedy in Its Wake.

A gentleman who lives in the Blue Grass and who has been a very extensive traveler has a silver service so magnificent in design and heavy in weight that its peers in the whole world may be numbered on the fingers of one hand. The owner is even now, when past middle age, a "wood fellow" who loves conviviality, and no game is too hazardous for him if he has the amount of the stakes. He takes pleasure in telling the history of his service, as it concerns the most audacious game of chance he ever witnessed.

"When I was in Bolivia some years ago," he always begins, "I got in with a crowd of men, English and natives, whose passion for gambling knew no bounds. Strange as it may seem, none of them knew poker, and I made myself solid with them by teaching them, but their great game was roulette.

"There was a little shop in Bogota, where they had a miniature Monte Carlo, and many nights did we spend around the great wheel, with our money and prospects hanging on the black or red. The wheel was entirely made of wood, and when it was spun around a cover was put over the machine so that they could keep on betting when it had ceased to turn.

"There is a worm down there in that climate that gets into furniture and bores until nothing out a shell is left. You may sit on a chair that looks perfectly strong, but at the first touch it collapses. This seems irrelevant, but it is not, as you may see later. In fact, that worm plays the title role in the tragedy I am going to tell.

"There was a wealthy Bolivian planter who had been a general in the war between Bolivia and Chile back in the early eighties. He was never absent a night from our games, but he would frequently stand about for a week and never make a bet larger than $10. Then he would suddenly cry out just as the operator was about to lift the cover and register the highest bet the house would permit. Next he would place all the money he could find takers for among the gentlemen present. Before the season was far advanced he had won great sums, and we had all felt the results of his freakish luck. It seemed that when he played 7-black he could not lose, and he seemed to realize it, for when he did call that number he would put all he owned in the balance.

"Still he was a gentleman and a famous duelist, and no one cared to question his methods. It went on this way for two months. Then one night the wheel stopped, and there was the silence of the prairies in the room. We could hear the ball fall into the compartment distinctly. We could hear the distant tinkling of a mandolin. The operator leaned up as from a cata-

Glorious News.

Comes from Dr. D. B. Cargile, of Washita, I. T. He writes: "Four bottles of Electric Bitters has cured Mrs. Brewer of scrofula, which had caused her great suffering for years. Terrible sores would break out on her head and face, and the best doctors could give no help but her cure is complete and her health is excellent." This shows what thousands have proved,—that Electric Bitters is the best blood purifier known. It's the supreme remedy for eczema, tetter, salt rheum, ulcers, boils and running sores. It stimulates liver, kidneys and bowels, expels poisons, helps digestion, builds up the strength. Only 50 cents. Sold by S. J. Hodgkinson Druggist. Guaranteed.

lepsy: "Seven—black, senores. I will take all any of you or all of you will bet." Well, I had been winning strong and was so much to the good that I was reckless.

"Five dollars," I said.

"Good, senor," he replied.

"He placed his entire fortune in different wagers. There were a number of strangers present, and they all seemed big flush. Then slowly, as a priest officiating at some solemn, barbaric ceremony, the banker moved the top. We all stood for a moment, and the tension was such that a carriage wheel on the cobblestones outside made us all start. 'Red,' came the announcement.

"The Bolivian was white as snow, but his voice was unshaken as he said: 'Gentlemen, you shall all be paid. As for me, I am ruined.'

"That night he shot himself, and his will, which had been written just before his death, arranged for the payment of all his debts. I was to receive the service for my share, though it is worth much more. But what I valued much more than that was a note in which he expressed his attachment for me and asked me to accept the silver as a gift and not a debt.

"He left also a curious manuscript, written some time before, which seemed to be a sort of private journal. He stated in this that his ears were so accurate that he could detect the difference between the fall of a pin and a needle. One night, so he says, he heard the ball fall into the compartment with a hollow thud, and when the machine was opened he made note of the number and color, '7—black.' Later, when alone for a moment, he found that the aforesaid worm had bored under that compartment. He sounded the excavation with a straw and found that it extended no farther than that one number. Then all he had to do was to listen and when his acute hearing told him that his number had come to get all the money possible on it.

"Yes, gentlemen, he had all his plans laid to perfection. There was only one weak spot in his calculations. He forgot that those worms could keep on boring."—Louisville Evening Post.

Not Responsible.

"Say, what right have you got to kick?" asked the man. "You never vote."

"That's just the reason I have a right to kick," said the tall man with the unhappy look. "As long as I don't vote I am not to blame for the actions of the fellows that are elected."—Indianapolis Press.

Coronach is a name formerly used for the funeral dirge among the Irish and Scottish highlanders. The dirge, derived from Scotland, is in Ireland commonly known as the "keening."

Famous Answer.

"My friend," the long haired passenger to the car man in the seat opposite, "to what end has your life work been directed?"

"To both ends," was the reply. "I have the only first class hat and shoe store in our village."—Chicago News.

A New Departure for Reno.

F. C. Savage's new Plumbing & Heating Display store and office at 318 Virginia street will be opened about July 1st.

Mr. Savage intends to devote his time exclusively to the business. All work will have his personal supervision.

He has employed Mr. Davis of San Francisco who comes highly recommended to the people of Reno.

With Mr. Savage's experience and the assistance that a first-class up-to-date workman from the city affords, they should, and will, undoubtedly, command a good share of the public patronage in the plumbing and heating line. 281w

A Life and Death Fight.

Mr. W. A. Hines of Manchester, Ia., writing of his almost miraculous escape from death, says: "Exposure after measles induced serious lung trouble, which ended in consumption. I had frequent hemorrhages and coughed night and day. All my doctors said I must soon die. Then I began to use Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, which completely cured me. I would not be without it even if it cost $5 a bottle. Hundreds have used it on my recommendation and all say it never fails to cure Throat, Chest and Lung troubles." Regular size 50c and $1. Trial bottles free at S. J. Hodgkinson's drug store.

SUNDAY, JULY 8, 1900

THE KANSAS CITY PLATFORM.

The platform adopted at Kansas City has a true ring in all of its parts. There are no falsehoods or apologies in it. It is bold and aggressive against injustice and wrongs applied to the people. It is vigorous in its utterance upon matters that are affirmative. Its declarations are clean-cut and decisive in expression; more particularly so upon principles pertaining to our system of government and innovations made upon them by the party in power, through its administration and its majority in congress.

The leading principles included in its several parts have been discussed in the JOURNAL, which discussion will be continued as occasion may demand to present the different phases the questions may assume in their application to national institutions, as presented by the false positions taken by the imperialists, who in truth take the relation of enemies to the country. There is an emphatic plank on imperialism that can receive but one construction, which is uncompromising opposition by Democrats to any innovation upon United States government.

The Porto Rican bill and its consequences, which can only be evil to the country and despotism for the people, receives the notice it merits as a farce directed against the republic for its subversion and destruction. The position in which the island is placed by the bill giving it a system of government falsely called republicanism, is given in a plain manner, but it takes a conspicuous position from the lights thrown upon it, among which is taxation without representation.

The plank that declares militarism a menace to free institutions is all it should be. It is comprehensive in its language when stating reasons in opposition to a large standing army, to establish which is one of the objects sought to be accomplished by the administration and imperialists, which is a necessary adjunct to an imperialistic form of government. The volunteer and militia systems are approved and commended as being in full accord with republican institutions and government by the people.

Private monopolies are declared to be indefensible, and trusts are handled without gloves, as they should be. They are characterized as Republican party institutions, and the facts are given upon which the charge is placed. It is stated that they are maintained by the Republican party as a means to acquire campaign funds needed to debauch the elective franchise to secure a continuance in power.

The party is arraigned for its insincerity respecting trusts. The ability of the party to relieve the people against these monopolies is given as a proof of its insincerity by stating that the administration and both branches of congress have been in full control of the subject for four years, and they have not only failed, but have refused to aid the people in any particular against the exactions of these criminal combinations. That the party and the administration have failed to enforce the laws there are on the statute books against them, which refusal and failures have committed the party to the protection and propagation of trust systems.

The platform of 1896 is reaffirmed and endorsed, and the declaration in the platform of that year regarding the free coinage of silver at 16 to 1 is renewed in specific language. The Democratic party is committed to the election of United States Senators by the people by a plank in terms, about the meaning of which there can be no mistake. The Nicaragua canal must be constructed and its immediate construction is demanded, subject to the ownership and control of the United States which will make its construction an American enterprise subject to the domination of the people with everything connected with it directed and used as demands in the future may require to further and protect the interests of the country and its commerce.

Sympathy for the South African Burghers in their heroic struggle for self government and freedom which is a natural heritage given to all men, was declared in terms about which there will be no mistake. The convention claimed to speak for the entire people, except Republican office holders, by declaring its sympathy, which claim it will be conceded is fully justified by the facts there are before the people. There will be at least one fact in favor of the claim which will continue through the campaign, which will be the fact that no Republican will have the temerity to dispute it. No convention of Democrats has placed before the country any such platform of principles as the convention at Kansas City has given to the country. The chief cause there is in favor of the Kansas City convention in that particular is that no convention has had opportunity presented to make such affirmative declarations respecting the fundamental principles of the Democratic party as the late convention had in its possession. Some of the best talent there is in the party was present and participating in the work of that body, which talent has given its impression to the thought and manner of expressing it there is in the platform.

Should the party continue as aggressive in the campaign as it has been in convention there is no opposition that will be brought against it which it will not overcome by the logic there is in a recital of the wrongs that it is seeking to abolish and the logic there is in a recital of the justice it is contending to secure to the oppressed beginning at home to continue its conquests in favor of freedom and the right to the islands of the sea. The maintenance of freedom and the right according to the eternal fitness of things is its mission before an intelligent and humane people who will not be controlled by the baseness of a Hanna or of those who have no arguments other than force in its many forms, all of which are of a degraded and degrading nature.

THE LATEST DISCOVERY IS A MUMMY MINE

Two Recently Arrived Prospectors Dig a
"Petrified Man" Out of a
Peavine Claim.

Relic of the age of stone—
Wert thou ever flesh and bone?
Or did sculptor's brain conceive thee and his chisel give thee birth?
Tell us quick, for Heaven's sake—
Art thou fossil or pure fake?
Then we'll yield thee up to science or reduce thee back to earth.
—W. McC. G.

For some months past Reno was copper wild. There were more strikes of bornite, malachite, sulphides and tunnel sites than could be recorded by a baseball scorer.

Then we got a new sensation. We found gold and silver, arsenite, chlorite, pyrites and mill sites.

But neither tunnel site nor mill site could compare by a dam site with the sight we saw at the Ross house yesterday.

Two prospectors, except Merritt and McOscar, brought in a back load of something that, in the language of "Long Tom" Smith, was "all dead and dead and desolate and gruesome."

Their find was nothing more nor less than a petrified body of a prehistoric man. Well, we want to amend that sentence by saying that it was in the shape of a human biped. These prospectors have not been long in our midst. Whether a long box was part of their baggage when they arrived, we do not know.

This thing of stone was unearthed on a claim several miles north of town.

The honest prospectors say that it was imbedded in a stratum of clay, between two washes of dry gravel. There was four feet of superficial dirt on top of it, but erosion had worn away the side of the bank until a shoulder of "the thing" was visible. It was carefully removed in a state of good preservation. Unfortunately the feet were broken off at the ankles and a piece of the abdomen stove in.

"The thing" is either a fossil or a fake. Rather let us say in more euphemistic language, a piece of statuary.

Petrification it cannot be, for where the lower limbs are broken the Portland cement and sand—or whatever the material used in its construction may be—shows no striation of flesh and bone. Fossil it may be; we will not impugn the good name of the prospectors by saying that they bought "the thing" in Frisco for $750. One thing that puts the prospectors in a good light is that they have not yet hired a hall, a brass band and a repeller.

CHAMPION CYCLERS

Reno Wheelmen Will Be Called Upon to Defend the Title.

From all indications Reno will soon be compelled to enter the lists again to retain the title "Champion of the Pacific Coast," which she so nobly won last week at Sacramento. A meet is to be held at Iowleside.

The proposed program includes a parade of bicycles and other vehicles in Golden Gate Park in the morning, followed by the bicycle races at Iowleside in the afternoon. The events will be made up of four open races—two scratch and two handicaps—and a fifty mile relay race.

In the latter the Garden City Wheelmen of San Jose, the Bay City Wheelmen and Olympic Wheelmen of this city, Capital City Wheelmen of Sacramento and the Reno Wheelmen of Reno, Nevada, will be invited to enter teams of ten men each to compete for the track relay championship of the Pacific coast. This honor is now held by the Reno Wheelmen, who decisively won it by defeating the Sacramento team on July Fourth. Such a race will be the greatest event in the annals of Western cycling, and every effort will be made to bring it off on Admission day as proposed.

In this contest it is planned to give the winning team an elegant trophy, individual prizes to each member of the winning team and a special prize to the rider making the fastest time in the race.—Examiner.

Cooperative Store Points.

First—Over 2,000 Rochdale Societies are now in successful operation in England. One of them is over 50 years old; has 12,000 members; $1,250,000 capital; a 20,000 volume library, and many factories. There are also in America several hundred.

Second—Members can pay for their shares in installments or allow their dividends to pay for them.

Third—Each member can have but one share and one vote. The officers are elected by the members, and hold office only as long as they work satisfactorily, hence the good service obtained.

Fourth—There is no such unlimited liability of members as under corporation laws, and no politics.

Fifth—All who handle money are under bonds.

Sixth—Interest is allowed to members on all sums paid for shares, and all profits are returned to them in proportion to the amount they trade.

Seventh—Goods are sold for cash only, or approved security, hence no bad debts.

Eighth—A manufacturing department is organized to encourage manufacturing and kindred interests in the community, and members can, if they prefer, belong to this department only.

Ninth—All the Rochdale societies are working in unison and have their own wholesale store in San Francisco.

BROWN HEARD FROM AGAIN

Another Communication From a
Local Prospector on Mining Matters.

EDITOR JOURNAL:—The people who have had so much to say about the new smelter being all talk, and no go, will have a chance now to draw in their horns, for the machinery was shipped from New York Friday and everything is ready to proceed with its construction as soon as the material can be laid down.

With the smelter an assured fact, the Exploration Company has increased its force of men in order to have a good pile of ore for the new enterprise to start on, and we would suggest to our brother miners and prospectors that they do likewise so as to stop all this foolish talk about this section not being able to furnish ore enough to keep a smelter running.

The Nevada Gold Mining Co. will hold a meeting next Saturday night in order to elect new officers and make arrangements to start up their property. We predict that this will be a great producer.

The smelter people could greatly increase the ore output of this section by putting in a free assay office or by making assays very cheaply. In this way they would help many a poor prospector and they themselves would get on to all the different ores found in this section. Let every one who has legs to walk on or horse to carry him, get out and prospect, for in ninety days the new smelter will turn your ore into money, and in this country there is plenty of ore for all of us. I will guarantee that in Cedar Mountain, Granite Mountain and the Dogskin Mountains two hundred men can go to work and make good wages. Get out and take a chance in Nature's lottery instead of laying around town and gathering moss. J. H. Brown.

Silver Party Committee.

The Silver Party county central committee met last evening in the office of Dr. Gibson.

The ten delegates allotted to Washoe county were apportioned as follows: Wadsworth and Pyramid 2, Verdi 1, Glendale 1, Buffaker, Franktown and Washoe 1, Reno 5.

A resolution was adopted instructing the delegates to the State convention to vote for fusion.

The committee adjourned to meet in two weeks at Dr. Gibson's office for the purpose of nominating delegates to be voted for at the primaries which will be held July 28th.

To Arrange a Benefit.

A special meeting of the Reno Wheelmen was held last evening. The racing board was appointed a committee to confer with the citizens' committee to arrange a benefit for King Ryan.

The intention is to secure the opera house and give a first class entertainment, but the nature of the program has not yet been definitely decided upon.

Death of an Old Lady.

The death of Mrs. O. Reindeau occurred July 3d after an illness of several months. Mrs. Reindeau was 62 years old, well known and highly respected in this community.

The Nation's Birthday.

Verdi's first attempt at celebrating the Fourth of July was very successful and the timeliness which has heretofore prevailed in such matters has entirely disappeared. The people realize that such matters can be handled at home with little effort.

At ten o'clock the parade started, headed by two young ladies on horseback, after which came the Verdi band, gaily decorated wagons containing children, then carriages and bicycles.

For the best decorated wheel Grover Hill was awarded first prize, while Jane Kane and Gerald Kinart received second and third prizes respectively.

After the parade all repaired to Kane's Grove, where a dancing platform had been erected. The rest of the day was taken up in dancing, foot-racing, bicycle racing, etc.

In the evening a dance in Lonkey's hall concluded the day's festivities.

SHORT ONES.

Arthur Condon has accepted a position with the Verdi Mill Co. as stenographer.

O. Lonkey and L. D. Ray, grand jurors, met with that body in Reno Friday.

A. Revert of the Dog Valley sawmill has sold his entire season's cut to the Verdi Mill Co.

Among the late arrivals seeking pleasure along the Truckee, are George Emmons, E. Everett and Mr. Gohar, and W. F. Talbot and wife of San Francisco.

Sad Death of H. M. Stiner.

Henry Mead Stiner died Friday at the home of his grand parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Stiner, on south Virginia street.

The deceased was a native of Modoc county, California, and was aged 21 years, 10 months and 2 days. Yesterday morning his remains were taken to Surprise valley for burial.

Mr. Stiner had been attending school in Pasadena, California, and was on his way home when he was taken sick with typhoid fever. He was beginning to recover when a blood vessel gave way in his right lung, which was the immediate cause of his death.

The community sympathizes with the parents and grand parents of the boy in their sore affliction.

Remarkable Cure of Rheumatism.
KENNA, Jackson Co., W. Va.
About three years ago my wife had an attack of rheumatism which confined her to her bed for over a month and rendered her unable to walk a step without assistance, her limbs being swollen to double their normal size. Mr. S. Maddox insisted on my using Chamberlain's Pain Balm. I purchased a fifty-cent bottle and used it according to the directions and the next morning she walked to breakfast without assistance in any manner, and she has not had a similar attack since.—A. B. PARSONS. For sale by Wm. Pinniger.
Henry Ritter's free lunches are made from the best material the market affords; enough for a hungry man. A bit buys a good drink to wash it down.
In almost every neighborhood there is some one whose life has been saved by Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy, or who has been cured of chronic diarrhoea by the use of that medicine. Such persons make a point of telling of it whenever opportunity offers, hoping that it may be means of saving other lives. For sale by Wm. Pinniger.

OLD TIMES, OLD FRIENDS, OLD LOVE.
There are no days like the good old days—
The days when we were youthful,
When humankind were pure of mind
And speech and deeds were truthful;
Before a love for sordid gold
Became man's ruling passion
And before each dame and maid became
Slaves to the tyrant fashion.
There are no girls like the good old girls—
Against the world I'd stake 'em—
As buxom and smart and clean of heart
As the Lord knew how to make 'em.
They were rich in spirit and common sense,
A plenty all supporting;
They could bake and brew and had taught
The school, too,
And they made the likeliest courtin'.
There are no boys like the good old boys
When we were boys together,
When the grass was sweet to the brown bare feet
That dimpled the laughing meadow.
When the power sung to the summer dawn
Of the bee in the billowy clover,
Or down by the mill the whippoorwill
Echoed his night song over.
There is no love like the good old love—
The love that mother gave us.
We are old, old men, yet we pine again
For that precious grace—God save us.
So we dream and dream of the good old times,
And our hearts grow tenderer, fonder,
As those dear old dreams bring soothing gleams
Of heaven away off yonder.
—Eugene Field.

WELLINGTON'S DECISION.
When the Moment to Strike Had Come, He Did Not Hesitate.
Badajos lies in Spain five miles from the Portuguese frontier. It was the key of a situation. Wellington's chance was to strike at Badajos before the French marshals could combine and crush him. His task was both in front of him and behind him. He lacked transport; he lacked food for the men; the soldiers were eating cassava root instead of bread; the bullocks were weak and emaciated. All this was the doing of the parliament at home.
But Wellington knew that the moment to strike had come, and he seems to have hesitated very little. Placing no faith in the tongues of the Portuguese, he made his plans with all possible secrecy. The guns for the siege were loaded on board the transport at Lisbon and consigned to a fictitious address. But in the river Sadhao they were placed upon smaller vessels, and finally they were again landed and drawn by bullocks to Elono, a post in the possession of the allies. Having stationed two-thirds of his force under General Graham and General Hill to prevent a most probable interference by Soult and Marmont, Wellington advanced, reaching Elono on the 11th of March, 1812. He had made the most incredible exertions.
The stupidity of the Portuguese had vied with the stupidity of the government at home. Wellington had been carrying the preparation for the campaign upon his own shoulders. If he was to win Badajos, he was to win it with no help save that from gallant and trustworthy subordinates. He was ill withal. Even his strangely steel-like nature had bent beneath the trouble of preparation amid such indifference. But on March 19 Beresford, with three divisions, crossed the Guardian on pontoons and flying bridges, drove the enemy's outposts and invested Badajos.—Stephen Crane in New Lipincott's.

The Old Shipplasters.
Probably the greatest profit ever enjoyed by the government as a result of the destruction of money was in connection with the fractional currency or shipplasters issued during the civil war.
The total amount issued was $368,724,079, of which $6,880,538 has never been presented for redemption.
A large amount has been preserved as curios by collectors, and occasionally even now it is offered for redemption.—Indianapolis News.

There are no gutters in the streets of Calao. A heavy rain consequently gives the city the aspect of Venice.
The Appetite of a Goat.
Is envied by all poor dyspeptics whose Stomach and Liver are out of order. All such should know that Dr. King's New Life Pills, the wonderful Stomach and Liver Remedy, gives a splendid appetite, sound digestion and a regular bodily habit that insures perfect health and great energy. Only 25 cents, at Hodgkinson's drug store.
Henry Ritter has one of the most modern resorts in the State. He also has the best brands of liquors and cigars.
Best in the World.
We believe Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is the best in the world. A few weeks ago we suffered with a severe cold and a troublesome cough. Having read their advertisements in our own and other papers we purchased a bottle to see if it would effect us. It cured us before the bottle was more than half used. It is the best medicine out for colds and coughs.—The Herald, Andersonville, Ind. For sale by Wm. Pinniger.
